Post Graduate Diploma in European Peace and Security

Post Graduate Diploma in European Peace and Security

Features and Scope of the course:

The Post Graduate Diploma in European Peace and Security is designed to cover the historical, cultural and economic development of Europe from the Roman Empire to the European Union. Europe can be considered the cradle of modern-day democratic states and values. The European Union was the first to have the idea of "making war unthinkable and materially impossible". Europeans have a long history of resolving conflict through peaceful means. The UN provision about pacific settlement is the product of that long tradition.

The aim of the course is to provide a comprehensive understanding of the European Union – how it came into existence, how the European way of life has influenced world politics and how Europe focuses on security and peace.

Objectives of the course:

- To provide an overview of how Europe has evolved over time.
- To help students understand the intricacies of India–EU relations.
- To provide a genealogical overview of peace and security.
- Study various diplomatic/non-diplomatic traditions of peaceful negotiations and conflict resolutions.
- To acquaint students with the basic concepts of research methodology and help them develop the spirit of scientific inquiry.
- Make students familiar with the dynamic relations as well as the internal and external functionalities of the foreign and security policy of the EU.
- To understand the EU's approach to global issues/conflicts in the multilateral world.
- To introduce students to the role of science and technology in the present progress of European society.
- To provide a comprehensive understanding of the European Union.
