

Lalitagauri Kulkarni

Lecturer in Economics (Position under 10th plan)

Irulkarni@unipune.ernet.in

Lalitagauri has been working as the lecturer under the 10th plan post in Department of Economics since May 2005.

She is teaching Macro Economics and International Economics at the department.

She has done her Post-graduation in economics from Gokhale Institute of politics and Economics, Pune.

She has been appreciated with various prizes at graduate and post-graduate level for excellence in Economics.

She has experience of teaching Economics for more than ten years at various institutions like Fergusson college, S.P.College, Ness Wadia college etc.

She has worked as the visiting faculty at Karve Institute of Social Service, Institute of Management Development and Research, Bharatiya Vidnyan Bhavan.

She has participated and presented her work at various conferences. She has written books for the students of Macroeconomics and on Indian Economy.

She also has the professional experience of working at a managerial position pioneering insurance trading company in India.

At present she has been working in the field of insurance and finance as the areas of her special interests.

The topic of her research is 'Development of Secondary Market Trading in Life Insurance Products: International Survey and Potential in India'.